INTRODUCTION.

The Parliamentary history of the Protestations is to be found in that volume of the " Journals of the House of Commons " <sup>1</sup> which covers the period from April the 13th, 1640, 16 Charles, to March the 14th, 1642, 18 Charles. As the wording of the preamble gives in full the reasons for the making of the Protestation <sup>2</sup> it will be of interest to give the whole:—

THE PROTESTATION. ' A Preamble, with the Protestation, made by the whole House of Commons, the 3rd of May, 1641, and assented unto, by the Lords of the Upper House, the 4th of May.

We, the Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses, of the Commons House, in Parliament, finding to the Grief of our Hearts, that the Designs of the Priests and Jesuits, and other Adherents to the See of Rome, have . . . of late, more boldly and frequently put in Practice, than formerly, to the undermining and Danger of the Ruin, of the true, reformed Religion, in his Majesty's Dominions established; and finding also, that there hath been, and having cause to suspect there still are, even during the Sitting in Parliament, Endeavours to subvert the Fundamental Laws of England and Ireland, and to introduce the Exercise of an arbitrary and tyrannical Government, by most pernicious and wicked Counsels, Plots, and Conspiracies; and that the long Intermission, and unhappier Breach, of Parliaments, hath occasioned many illegal taxations, whereupon the Subjects hath been prosecuted and grieved; and that divers Innovations and Superstitions have been brought into the Church; Multitudes driven out of his Majesty's Dominions; Jealousies raised and fomented between the King and People; a Popish Army levied in Ireland; and Two Armies brought into the Bowels of this Kingdom, to the Hazard of his Majesty's Royal Person, the Consumption of the Revenue of the Crown, and the Treasure of this Realm; and lastly, finding the great Causes of Jealousy, Endeavours have been and are used, to bring the English Army into Misunderstanding of this Parliament, thereby to incline that Army, by Force, to bring to pass those wicked Counsels; have therefore thought good to join ourselves in a Declaration of our united Affections and Resolutions; and to make this ensuing Protestation: '

‘<sup>3</sup>I, A.B., do, in the Presence of Almighty God, promise, vow, and protest, to maintain and defend, as far as lawfully I may, with my Life, Power, and Estate, the true, reformed, Protestant Religion, expressed in the Doctrine of the Church of England,<sup>4</sup> against all Popery, and Popish Innovations, and according to the Duty of my Allegiance to his Majesty’s Royal Person, Honour, and Estate; as also the Power and Privilege of Parliament, the lawful Rights and Liberties of the Subjects, and every person, that maketh this Protestation, in whatsoever he shall do, in the lawful Pursuance of the same; And, to my power, as far as lawfully I may, I will oppose, and by good Ways and Means, endeavour to bring to condign Punishment, all such as shall, by Force, Practice, Counsel, Plots, Conspiracies, or otherwise, do anything to the contrary in this present Protestation contained.

And further, I shall, in all just and honourable Ways, endeavour to preserve the Union and Peace betwixt the Three Kingdoms of England, Scotland, and Ireland; and neither for Hope, Fear, nor other Respect, shall relinquish this Promise, Vow and Protestation.’

The wording of the Protestation was drawn up by a Committee of the Commons consisting of Mr. Pym, Sir John Colpepper, Mr. Martin, Mr. Hollis, Mr. Strode, Sir Philip Stapleton, Sir Thomas Barrington, Sir Robert Harley, Nathaniel Fynes, Mr. Hampden, Mr. Maynard, Mr. Glyn. As evidence of the Importance attached to it, whilst the Committee was sitting, an order was made that no member should “stir out of the House” without leave of the House, nor speak to the messengers. After the Committee returned with the Protestation, as amended, Lord Russell was then ordered to go to the Lords with a message “to desire a Conference with their Lordships, by a Committee of both Houses, concerning great Businesses, that concern the Safety of the Kingdom, so soon as will stand with their Lordships Conveniency.”<sup>5</sup>

On the next day, Mr. Maynard was ordered to prepare a bill concerning the making of the Protestation by all his Majesty’s subjects throughout the Kingdom. It was introduced on the sixth of May and read for the third time on the 19th of July.

<sup>4</sup> A resolution was passed on the 12th May, 1641 (Journal, pp. 144-5), that by those words was meant only “the Publick Doctrine professed in the said Church” so far as it is opposite to Popery, and Popish Innovations; and that the said words are not to be extended to the Maintaining of any Form of Worship, Discipline, or Government, nor of any Rites or Ceremonies of the said Church of England.

It was not, however, until the 20th of the following January<sup>6</sup> that the Protestation was printed and sent down to the country with definite instructions for the people to take it. On that day it was resolved that the following letter should be signed by the Speaker and sent to the Sheriffs of the several counties:—

“ Gentlemen,

It is now some Months since that the Protestation taken by the Lords and House of Commons was sent down into the country,<sup>7</sup> with an Expectation, that it should be generally taken throughout the Kingdom, for a Testimony of their good Concurrence with the Parliament; but, through the Remissness of some of those that had the Care of recommending it to others, very many there be that have nor hitherto taken it; Now the House of Commons, having discovered many dangerous Designs plotted against the Parliament, and especially that of the Fourth of this Instant January,<sup>8</sup> which, had it taken Effect, would have stricken not only at the Priveleges, but the very Being of Parliament (as will more appear by the Declaration herewith sent unto you, which the House desires you to publish throughout all Parts of the County) have thought fit once again to recommend the Taking of this Protestation; and have therefore commanded me, in their Name, to desire you the High Sheriff and the Justices of the Peace of that County to meet together in One Place, as soon as possible you may, and there to take the Protestation yourselves; and then, despersing yourselves into your several Divisions, that you will call together the Minister, the Constables, Churchwardens and Overseers of the Poor of every Parish, and tender unto them the Protestation, to be taken in your Presence, and to desire of them, that they will very speedily call together the Inhabitants of their several Parishes, both Householders and others, being of Eighteen Years of Age and upwards, into One or more Places, according to the Largeness of their Parishes, and to tender unto them the same Protestation, to be taken in their Presence; and to take their Names, both of those, that do take it, and do refuse to take the same Protestation; and to return them to yourselves, at such time as you shall appoint; which the House desires may be so speedily, as that you likewise may return such

<sup>7</sup> By a vaguely worded resolution of the 30th July, 1641, the members were instructed to “send down to the Places for which they serve Copies of the Vote of the House upon the Protestation,” Journal, page 230.

Certificate, as you receive from them, to the Knights and Burgesses serving for that County, before the (blank) Day of (Blank); Wherein the House desires your greatest Care and Diligence, as a Matter very much importing the Good both of the King and Kingdom; which being all I have in Command, I rest,

Your very loving Friend.

London, January 19th, 1641."

On the 16th of April<sup>9</sup> following the Commons appointed a Committee which included Cromwell, Sir Henry Vane and Sir Gilbert Green, to consider of the Number and Quality of the Persons in all Counties, that have refused the Protestation; and what Course is fit to be held towards them." At the same time the members of the House were instructed that "after they had viewed the Protestations themselves" they were to "return the Refusers to this Committee." It does not appear that any further proceedings were taken, the cause probably being the rapid march of subsequent events.

It only remains to be added that some years ago the records of the two Houses of Parliament—the Lords and the Commons—were consolidated and classified. They are now preserved in the Victoria Tower. The extant returns of the Protestation are unfortunately imperfect for Northumberland, only those for Berwick and Morpeth remaining. The returns for the Palatinate of Durham are practically complete<sup>10</sup> the lists of parochial officials for the Wards of Easington, and Stockton being the only missing documents, and their names are to be found in the parish lists. The returns are made on many and various sizes and qualities of paper, and in many and various styles of writing.

The official classification has been retained in printing so that the original M.S. of any document can be immediately and easily referred to.

The whole subject has been considered by Dr. S. R. Gardiner in Decline and Fall of the Monarchy of Charles I., Vol. II., p.p. 159, 160, 229, 323, 352.

The Society is indebted to the late Duke of Northumberland for his having obtained permission for a transcript to be made, and thanks are due to the Librarian of the House of Lords for allowing this to form the contents of one of the Society's Volumes. The Editor wishes to express his gratitude to Mr. J. C. Hodgson, and the Rev. D. S. Boutflower, for reading the proofs.

He married, 30 Jany., 1609/10, Margaret White, by whom he had a daughter and heiress, Mary, successively wife of Sir Pelham Carey and of George Paylor of Nunmonkton. Sir Robert Jackson, who died seised of property at Fenham in Islandshire and at Holborn in Northumberland, was buried 29 Jany., 1645/6.

<sup>4</sup> William Grigson should be Gregson, mayor 1632, of a local family still possessed of property in north Northumberland.

<sup>5</sup> John Saltonstall, mayor 1637, buried 23 May, 1646. By his will dated 20 April, 1646, after mentioning his wife Jane, her son, George Milner, and her daughter, Ann Milner, he gave his lands in Lincolnshire, his messuages at Berwick, his tithes at Tuggle, Ancroft Mill and Allerdean to his daughters Elizabeth, wife of Patrick Ramsay, and Grace, then unmarried, but afterwards wife of Thomas Hughes, an officer in the army.

<sup>6</sup> Gilbert Durie presented to the vicarage of Berwick in 1613; he was chaplain in ordinary of James I.; he subsequently deserted his benefice, and occurs in the guild book in 1645 as 'of Ellingham, clerk.' By his wife, Joyce Hilles, whom he married 19 May, 1607, he had a numerous issue. Cf. Scott, Berwick, pp. 354, 356, 364.

<sup>8</sup> Benjamin Clerke was removed from the mayoralty by Sir Arthur Heselrigg, 19 Sept., 1648. He again served in 1660 and 1661. Cf. Scott, Berwick, p. 210.

<sup>9</sup> Thomas Temple married, 28 Feb., 1627/8, Isabel, daughter of Hugh Gregson, alderman of Berwick, by whom he had a numerous issue.

<sup>10</sup> Stephen Jackson, a kinsman of the above-named Sir Robert Jackson, described as alderman, 25 Sept., 1661, when he took a conveyance of Berwick Castle. (Cf. Hist of Berwick Club, vol. xix, p. 350). Mayor, 1653 and 1654. His will dated 23 Sept., 1669, was proved the same year. His son, Stephen Jackson, mayor 1690 and 1691, made his will 15 Dec., 1705. Ibid.
